

Small Animal Veterinarian Position
Cache Creek Veterinary Hospital

Small Animal Veterinary Position where you can reach you financial and professional goals. This is the position you have been looking for. Excellent staff, loyal and established clientele. Modern newly renovated practice with all of the equipment to practice modern progressive medicine.

Cache Creek Veterinary Hospital was established in 1973. For 45 years we have been serving the community for all of needs of animals both large and small. Although one facility, we recognise the unique requirements of small animals and large animals and separate the two as distinct practices. This has allowed us to be progressive in each area. The small animal practice is busy and even though we are rural, our clientele is very supportive of doing everything they can to address the medical and surgical concerns of their furry family members.

We believe in the well being of our staff. The job is demanding and exciting; always changing. Balancing work and life are key. We pay well and look after each other.

Family is important to us, so over the years we have developed a philosophy of accepting what each member can give to the team. If half time, or $\frac{3}{4}$ time is what someone needs to work in order to balance family and profession then we make that work. If a team member needs help with day care, we make that part of the employment agreement. We look for people that can focus and work hard in our practice. We look for people who can work together and make this a positive work environment. Think about what you want out of your career and talk to us about it. We know what we need out of a team member, but we want to know what you want; it is important to us.

The Lower Thompson Valley is breath taking. You never get tired of looking at it. We are central to the best outdoors activities in the world; skiing, mountain biking, camping, hiking- you name it. The community is fully serviced, and we are a short 45 minutes to Kamloops. This is an excellent place to raise a family. The schools are wonderful, and the cost of living is among the lowest in the province. A family can get ahead here and not be bogged down in the debt and the ridiculously expensive living of BC urban centers.

We want a hard-working professional who can make a real difference in the lives of their patients. Together we find the balance of high income, family or personal time, progressive positive contribution to the practice and a continually developing professional who wants to work in a safe and supportive environment. We are looking for someone special; we are looking for you!

The first step is let us know you are out there. Send us an email and your CV. From there we will set up a Skype call and go over the details of the position and talk about your experience and what you want out of your career. If there is a mutual interest we will proceed to formal job offer that will include; salary, benefits, expectations from employer, holidays, CE/professional development and more. This process will take about 2 weeks. If we agree on the details, then we would love to meet you, have you come see the practice, see the area and meet the staff. The final step is getting you here. This can be big task but we will work with you and include moving expenses if you need them as part of your benefits package.

For more information on the position and to submit your CV to quinn@cachevet.com